Chris,
Would you like us to see if Commissioner Sandoval is available?
Tom

Tom --

Here are the pertinent details:

The National Energy and Utility Affordability Coalition (NEUAC) annual hosts a conference, the nation's largest annual gathering devoted to easing the home-energy burdens of low-income Americans. This year's conference will be held June 18-20, 2014, at the Sheraton Kansas City Hotel at Crown Center in Kansas City, Missouri. NEUAC 2014 is expected to draw 700 or more participants from across the country to address the issues surrounding affordable home energy for vulnerable households. Attendees include nonprofits, national and state advocacy groups, government agencies, Tribal communities, and utilities.

Each year, we conduct two plenary panel discussions addressing emerging issues of likely interest to our conferees. We are planning a plenary at 9 a.m. Friday, June 20, on the subject of net metering and the impacts it has on all customers, but especially low-income customers.

In addition to you, we have invited Barbara Lockwood of Arizona Public Service and David Springe of the Kansas Citizens' Utility Ratepayers Board to serve as panelists.
