The initial task seems to be to determine the necessity of the project. It makes more sense to me to develop power generation capability nearer to anticipated use rather than increase transport capacity from remote sources.

If, after due study, it is decided to proceed with this project, I urge following the segment 1B alternative along Cañada Road underground. The existing transmission lines should also be combined with any additional lines in the same undergrounding. I believe this to be the best alternative for environmental, health, safety, and security reasons. Security, unfortunately, is growing in importance to defend against terrorism and vandalism. Sincerely, Clifford E. Donley
