Re: Interstate 8 Alternative: Chocolate
Canyon Option

Placing the transmission line in the above mentioned location would do profound visual damage to the most pristine area between Alpine & San Diego. For eleven years, every time I go west on I 8 I gaze, with great personal satisfaction down the Canyon to the El Capitan Reservoir - a most pleasant & peaceful contrast. Coming home - same spot - I 8 east, I always enjoy the hills rising to the sky. Please don't destroy! Visual Resources did not have a picture at said location with the lines interposed. A bad oversight.
