The existing view to the northwest from Key Viewpoint 63 on the Pacific Crest Trail, just north of Fred Canyon Road. This view is dominated by rocky ridges of the Laguna Mountains. Kitchen Creek Road is visible in the image above and it passes immediately adjacent to Cibbets Flat Campground (to the south out of view). The landscape is natural appearing and with the exception of the road cuts, there is little evidence of built features or other modifications. Views are panoramic and unobstructed.
