A visual simulation of the BCD Alternative from Key Viewpoint 63 on the Pacific Crest Trail, just north of Fred Canyon Road. This view to the northwest captures the BCD route as it crosses the Laguna Mountains, just north of Cibbets Flat Campground. The transmission line and access roads would be prominently visible to hikers on the Pacific Crest trail and travelers on Fred Canyon Road and Kitchen Creek Road (visible in the image above). Structure skylining as the line crosses the ridge tops would exacerbate structure prominence.
