A visual simulation of the Modified Route D Alternative Option A (viewing distance to the south ranging from 3.5 to 4.5 miles) with the lattice structures shown with a dark gray galvanizing color. In addition to the three ridgeline structures in the left half of the image above, an additional six structures are faintly visible in the vicinity of the chicken ranch and to the right (west). Although the dark gray color blends well with a dark, mottled background, the darker color tends to appear more prominent when backdropped by a light-colored background (either terrain or sky).
