Question BIO-19:

Biological Resources

BIO-19 The special-status invertebrate report and special-status herpetofauna report, provided in response to Data Request BIO-1 (both prepared by AMEC in 2012), are both marked “draft.” Please provide documentation (e.g., an email or letter) from AMEC staff to indicate whether the findings and conclusions in the draft reports may be considered complete, or whether further revision may be needed to support the EIR/EIS project analysis.

Response to Question BIO-19:

The attached email documentation from AMEC confirms that the findings and conclusions in both the "Habitat Assessments and Focused Surveys for Special Status Invertebrates" report dated June 4, 2012, and the "Focused Surveys for Sensitive Herpetofauna" (Devers Substation to Beaumont) report dated June 2012, are considered final reports.

Hi Wes,

Would you please confirm that the two reports you prepared for the West of Devers Upgrade Project, "Habitat Assessments and Focused Surveys for Special Status Invertebrates" dated June 4, 2012, and "Focused Surveys for Sensitive Herpetofauna" (Devers Substation to Beaumont) also dated June 2012, that were both labeled as "Draft" may actually be considered "final" for all intents and purposes and that no changes, amendments or additions were made to these reports since they were completed?

Many thanks,
