Decision No. 35737

BEFORE THE RAILROAD COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

In the Matter of the Application of)
J. W. MANNING for a license as a)	Application No. 24227
Motor Transportation Broker.)	First Supplemental

BY THE COMMISSION:

FIRST SUPPLEMENTAL OPINION

In the above-entitled supplemental application, J. W. Manning seeks a license authorizing him to engage in the business of Motor Transportation Broker, pursuant to Chapter 705, Statutes of 1935. Accompanying the application is a list of carriers whom Manning proposes to serve together with letters of authority from those carriers designating Manning as their transportation representative. A surety bond, continuous in form, was filed with the original application.⁽¹⁾

By Decision No. 34480, dated August 12, 1941, in Application No. 24227, the Commission licensed Manning to act as a Motor Transportation Broker. This license expired on December 31, 1941 as provided for in section 7 of the Motor Transportation Brokers' Act. At the public hearing on that application it was established, as stated in the opinion of that decision, that Manning was a full-time salaried employee of American Storage Company of Los Angeles,⁽²⁾ the fictitious name under which the Pacific States Savings and Loan Association functions as a warehouseman for used household goods, personal effects and office and store fixtures and equipment. It was there found that the applicant was an experienced and competent person fully capable of performing the duties of a Motor Transportation Broker.

It appears from the application that Manning has arranged to represent approximately fifty-four carriers which hold highway contract, radial highway common carrier, and/or city carrier permits.

This is not a matter in which a public hearing is necessary. The application should be granted as provided for in the following order.
