ORIGINAL

Application
No. 27466

APPEARANCES as shown in Appendix "B".

CRAEMER, Commissioner

O P I N I O N

Public hearings were held on this application in Los Angeles on June 24, 25, and 28, 1946. The matter was taken under submission upon the filing of concurrent briefs with the Commission on or before July 29, 1946. Briefs have been filed and the matter is now ready for decision.

In this application financial relief is sought on an emergency basis primarily to meet added passenger service operating expenses resulting from increases granted to the company's employees. <sup>(1)</sup>

(1) The following statement was made by applicant's attorney (Tr. 1, pp. 5-7).

"Prior to the filing of this application, in accord with the national adjustment in wages, a 16-cent an hour wage increase was given to employees, retroactive to January 1, 1946.

"Since that time, pursuant to settlement by the President of the United States, an additional 2-1/2 cent per hour has been given Pacific Electric employees, effective May 22, 1946.

"This, together with cost of rules changes granted operating employees, makes a material increase in Pacific Electric operating expenses, over those set forth in the application, the amount of which will be shown in evidence."

The following table summarizes applicant's present and proposed fare changes, except for special and specific cases.

"The application also asks for changes in Los Angeles Motor Coach Lines' fares to reconcile them with changes proposed in fares of Pacific Electric Railway Company.

"This greatly increased operating expense can not be met out of present earnings, and, therefore, increased earnings are necessary if applicant is to continue its present service.

"It is respectfully requested that relief be given promptly as the situation is critical. The wage increases must be paid, and materials and supplies must be purchased at the added prices.

"These are conditions which have been brought about by conditions beyond our control. The only way to meet the situation is to have established increase in rates for the service rendered.

"It is believed that this is a proper case for an interim order putting into effect the rates set up in the application which will give added revenue to apply to the increased costs, although it is not anticipated it will cover all of the increased operating expenses."

Sixteen exhibits were filed in this proceeding: 14 by the applicant, one by the City of Burbank, and one by the Commission's staff. Applicant's Exhibit No. 8 shows the estimated operating results that will be obtained during a 12-month period ending June 30, 1947, on two different bases - one under present fares and the other employing the proposed fare. Exhibit No. 15 by the Commission's staff, as expanded by oral testimony, shows the estimated operating results covering the 12-month period ending June 30, 1947, employing the proposed increased fares.

The following tabulation is taken from the two exhibits referred to above covering applicant's passenger operations, including applicant's share of the Los Angeles Motor Coach Lines, for the 12-month period ending June 30, 1947.

Footnote (1) Concluded

"The proposed rate increases have been kept at a minimum in an effort to avoid question of the justification for emergency relief.

"By proceeding in this manner the Commission could retain jurisdiction for whatever study may be desired by parties and the Commission's staff, and the record could be supplemented and rates adjusted up or down as may then be found justified.

"The payment of the increased costs can not be deferred; likewise the increased revenue should not be deferred."

It was stipulated that all reports filed with the Commission by this company, which are open to the public, should be considered, by reference, as part of the record herein. A comparison of data shown in Exhibit 15 with that of current monthly reports on file with the Commission shows that the principal item of variance in Exhibits 8 and 15 was due to the different allowance for "Injuries and Damages" amounting to approximately $800,000. The allowance in Exhibit 15 was based on 1945 actual experience, whereas, in the case of Exhibit 8, this annual expense was based on the estimated cost for the first four months of 1946.

The cities of Burbank, Glendale, and Long Beach took the position that both the present and proposed fare structures impose a discrimination to patrons using applicant's facilities in traveling to and from those cities, and urged that the Commission review this entire situation looking toward establishing just and reasonable rates on a system-wide basis. These features will be considered by the Commission in connection with the general investigation into the company's entire operations.

This record is conclusive that applicant's revenue under prevailing conditions is not sufficient to meet the increased operating expenses resulting primarily from wage increases; in fact the record shows that even under the proposed fare increase the company will still fail to meet its passenger service operating expenses, including depreciation, without any return on the investment. This record compels the conclusion that applicant should be granted immediate relief. Such relief, however, should be considered as temporary pending the completion of a comprehensive survey covering the operations not only of this carrier but those of the Los Angeles Transit Lines, which company is now before the Commission seeking authority to increase its system fare structure. To this end the Commission is instituting an investigation on its own motion to inquire into all phases of applicant's operations and of the rate and transportation problem in the Los Angeles Metropolitan area.

Upon this record the Commission finds that applicant has justified the fare changes set forth in the following order which in effect grants the relief sought, except in the case of the Los Angelos Motor Coach operation wherein the zone fare is increased from 7 cents to 10 cents each with three tokens for 25 cents, as was granted the Los Angelos Transit Lines, a joint owner of this operation.

The following form of Order is recommended.
