O P I N I O N

Applicants herein request a certificate of public convenience and necessity to operate as a petroleum irregular route carrier in portions of the State of California north of Los Angeles and south of Fresno for the transportation of petroleum and petroleum products in tank trucks and tank trailers pursuant to the provisions of Section 50-3/4 of the Public Utilities Act, as amended by Statutes 1949, Chapter 1399.

The amendment referred to provides, among other things, that in the event a petroleum irregular route carrier was, on September 1, 1949, and thereafter operating under a permit as a radial highway common carrier, and shall file an application within 180 days after the amendment takes effect, the Commission shall issue a certificate of public convenience and necessity without further proceedings, and such certificate shall authorize the carrier to engage in such operations as it was authorized to conduct on September 1, 1949.

Applicants allege in their verified application that, on September 1, 1949, and continuously thereafter they were a petroleum irregular route carrier operating under a permit issued by this Commission as a radial highway common carrier. The application was filed within 180 days after said amendment became effective.

A public hearing does not appear to be necessary.

Upon the facts set forth hereinabove, we find that public convenience and necessity require that Ray J. Cobb and Clyde Eli Wilson, a general partnership operating under the name of C & W Transportation Co., establish and operate services as a petroleum irregular route carrier to the extent set forth in the ensuing order.

Ray J. Cobb and Clyde Eli Wilson are hereby placed upon notice that operative rights, as such, do not constitute a class of property which may be used as an element of value in rate-fixing, for any amount of money in excess of that originally paid to the state as the consideration for the granting of such rights. Aside from their purely permissive aspect, they extend to the holder a full or partial monopoly of a class of business over a particular route. This monopoly feature may be changed or destroyed at any time by the state, which is not, in any respect, limited to the number of rights which may be given.

O R D E R

Application as above entitled having been filed and the Commission having found that public convenience and necessity so require,

Cobb and Clyde Eli Wilson, a general partnership, operating under the name of C & W Transportation Co., authorizing the establishment and operation of a service as a petroleum irregular route carrier, as defined in Section 2-3/4 of the Public Utilities Act, for the transportation of petroleum and petroleum products in tank trucks and tank trailers between all points and places within that portion of the State of California bounded as follows:
