Minimum Rate Tariff 17 provides zone and area-to-point rates for the transportation of rock, sand, gravel and other specified commodities in dump truck equipment from production areas to delivery zones and points in the Southern California area.^{1/} By Petition No. 156, as amended, the Southern California Rock Products Association requests that the adopted traverse network data supporting the minimum zone rates be amended so as to reflect the new freeway segments that have been constructed since the traverse network data was last adjusted by Decision No. 73256 of October 27, 1967 (Petition for Modification No. 119, et al). ✓

^{1/} The production areas and delivery zones are described in the Commission's Southern California Production Area and Delivery
Zone Directory 1.

Public hearing was held before Examiner Gagnon at Los Angeles on April 23, 1968. The matter was submitted, subject to the receipt of the staff's late-filed Exhibit No. 12 and replies thereto from interested parties, due 15 days after the receipt of notice of the staff's filing of said exhibit. On June 20, 1968 notice was mailed to interested parties informing them that Exhibit No. 12 was filed and available for review at the Commission's offices in San Francisco and Los Angeles; and that replies were due on or before July 8, 1968. Except for those matters specifically relating to Petition No. 161, late-filed Exhibit No. 12 is hereby received in evidence. Issues involved in Petition No. 161 are to be separately heard and considered.

Petitioner's counsel testified as to the general allegations and relief sought by the petitioner. He explained that since the network segments and related traverse time and distance factors upon which the zone rates are predicated were last adjusted, over 100 miles of additional freeways, freeway segments and freeway access streets have been added within the so-called Expanded Core Area.^{2/} Petitioner contends that such freeway additions will result in a reduction in vehicle running times and distances between production areas and delivery zones and that corresponding adjustments should be made in the traverse network underlying the zone rates. Having reviewed the evidence presented by the staff, (Exhibits Nos. 1 through 11) petitioner's witness concurs in the staff's proposed modifications to the established network segments and traverse time and distance factors in recognition of new freeway segments not heretofore considered or reflected in said traverse network underlying the zone rates prescribed in Minimum Rate Tariff 17.

The Commission's Transportation Division staff conducted an extensive time and distance traverse study relative to the new freeway segments. The staff presented a summary (Exhibit No. 11) of the new and revised network segments it recommends be added to the established time and distance traverse network for the transportation of rock, sand, gravel and certain other related commodities in dump truck equipment within the Los Angeles Basin Core Area, for which zone rates are named in Minimum Rate Tariff 17. The staff explained that in the course of its field investigation the actual running of the freeway traverses was accomplished jointly by representatives of interested shippers and carriers under the direction and supervision of staff engineers. The information thus obtained was submitted to the staff in the form of observer trip report sheets. A sample check of approximately 20 percent of the miles traversed was made by a staff engineer who rode as an observer over the same route. Information from the observer trip report sheets was summarized to develop the miles and time applicable to each new freeway segment.

Other data to be reconciled were existing route segments that were divided into two segments by the new freeway. This was accomplished by determining the ratio of the miles of each part of the divided segments to the original whole segment. The resulting ratio was used to allocate the time of the whole segment into two separate times.

In addition to the divided segments, it was necessary to include new street segments to provide access to the freeway where there were no existing network segments. They were determined from field investigations made by the staff engineers. The miles were established by the use of a state car with a calibrated odometer.

The time was determined from field observations, comparison to existing network segments, posted speed limits and general knowledge of dump truck operations.

Additional zone entry segments were also determined by the staff. These segments provided an entrance and exit time connecting the zone basing point to the freeway for the zones traversed by the new freeway segments. The times for each entry segment were arrived at by adjusting the same time values that were applicable for the zone in the original traverse network. In order to incorporate the new segments into the network, it was also necessary to delete certain existing network segments.

The underlying cost and rate information adopted by the Commission in the establishment of the various zone rates named in Minimum Rate Tariff 17 is generally represented as cost and rate formulas which have been programmed into the Commission's data-bank processing file for said tariff. The rate formula relates a network of traverse times and distances between production areas and delivery zones with unit costs of operation for ultimate rate determination.

The Commission's Transportation Division Traverse Network Maps which schematically portray the network segments with their traverse time and distance factors for the establishment of zone rates in Minimum Rate Tariff 17 (presently Exhibits Nos. 9 through 16, 21 and 22, in Decision No. 73256 of October 27, 1967, in Case No. 5437, Petition for Modification No. 119) have been modified by the staff to reflect the new and revised network segments proposed in Exhibit No. 11 and presented in this proceeding, as Exhibits Nos. 1 through 10, to supersede the existing traverse network maps. The staff incorporated the new and revised network segments with their time and distance factors, as listed in Exhibit No. 11 and depicted in the amended Traverse Network Maps, into the established traverse network file as an integral part of the computer programmed cost formula underlying Minimum Rate Tariff 17. No modifications are proposed to be made in the incremental operating cost and rate formulas currently reflected in the tariff's computer program as authorized by Decision No. 70436 of April 30, 1968.^{3/}

The computer print-outs of new and revised zone costs and rates per ton, resulting under the staff proposed adjustments in the established traverse time and distance factors, for the dump truck transportation of rock, sand and gravel; slag; asphaltic concrete; and decomposed granite are set forth in late-filed Exhibit No. 12. Said exhibit sets forth the prior established time and distance factors, adjusted to reflect new or revised network segments in recognition of recently constructed freeway routes, from various existing production areas to specified delivery zones as round-trip running time in minutes and one-way miles, respectively. The adjusted time and distance factors are then related to previously adopted incremental operating costs and rate data in accordance with established formulas and electronic data processing procedures. The resulting zone rates are generally the same as or lower than the present applicable minimum zone rates, although in several instances such minimum rates would be increased under the staff proposal.

The traverse network time and distance factors, presently stored in the cost data file as prime variables in the cost formula phase of the computer program underlying the zone rates named in Minimum Rate Tariff 17, should be up-dated as proposed by the staff in order that said zone rates may be sufficiently reflective of current transportation conditions and operating experience. The computer print-outs of the zone rates resulting from the data processing of the staff adjusted traverse factors in conjunction with prior accepted cost and rate information should formulate the basis for the zone rates to be established by the Commission's order herein.

Findings and Conclusions

We find that:

1. The network segments and related traverse time and distance factors underlying the establishment of zone rates in Minimum Rate Tariff 17 were last generally revised pursuant to Decision No. 73256 of October 27, 1967, in Case No. 5437.

2. Since these network segments and related traverse time and distance factors were last generally revised, a substantial number of new freeway segments have been completed and added to the freeway network in the Southern California territory within which the zone rates prescribed in Minimum Rate Tariff 17 apply.

3. The network segments and related traverse time and distance factors presently contained in the computer program for Minimum Rate Tariff 17 should now be up-dated to reflect the new freeway segments that have been constructed in the Southern California area.

4. The network segments and related traverse time and distance factors recommended by the Commission's Transportation Division staff to be incorporated into the established traverse network underlying the zone rates in Minimum Rate Tariff 17 reflect the new freeways, freeway segments and freeway access streets constructed within the Southern California area.

5. The Commission's Transportation Division Traverse Network Maps, received in evidence as Exhibits Nos. 1 through 10, set forth the current network segments and related traverse time and distance factors and should be reflected in the zone rates prescribed in Minimum Rate Tariff 17.

6. The data processing of Minimum Rate Tariff 17 computer program, modified as requested by petitioner and recommended by the Commission's staff, has produced computer print-outs of zone costs and rates per ton which reasonably reflect the additional new freeway segments constructed in the Southern California area since the traverse network underlying said zone rates were last generally revised.

7. The establishment of zone rates resulting from the computer print-outs referred to in paragraph 6 hereof in Minimum Rate Tariff 17 will provide just, reasonable and nondiscriminatory minimum zone rates for the transportation governed thereby.

In view of the above findings we conclude that Petition No. 156, as amended, should be granted as recommended by the Commission's staff; and that Minimum Rate Tariff 17 should be amended in accordance with the above findings.
