OPINION

Ned Meislin, doing business as Galaxy Cellular Communications (applicant), seeks a certificate of public convenience and necessity (CPC&N) to resell cellular radio telecommunications service within California. Applicant proposes to offer service in the Los Angeles metropolitan area.

Applicant served a copy of its application on cellular resellers and facilities-based carriers with whom it may compete and on other interested parties.

Applicant's proposed tariffs are attached to its application. The proposed rates are those currently in effect in the Los Angeles metropolitan area. Applicant alleges that its owner has sales and marketing experience in the cellular services industry.

Applicant's balance sheet shows that its net worth is $50,000 in cash. It expects a first year net loss of $84,878, but estimates a second year profit of $43,804.

Applicant seeks expedited approval of its application in order that it may begin service as soon as possible to meet the growing demand for services in the Los Angeles metropolitan area.

Applicant has provided adequate information for a grant of authority to provide cellular telecommunications services.

1991 (illustrated markets in California are, by their nature, generally competitive. That competition will restrain applicant from charging unreasonably high prices to customers. Applicant has adequate financial resources to withstand short-term losses.

As a telephone corporation, applicant is subject to:

- The fee used to fund the costs of regulating public utilities. (Public Utilities (PU) Code §§ 401-410, 431-435.)
 Resolution M-4757 (May 22, 1991) set the fee for fiscal year 1989-90 for telephone corporations at one-tenth of 1% (0.1%) of revenue subject to the fee revenue subject to the fee.
- 2. The surcharge of three-tenths of 1% (0.3%) on gross intrastate revenues used to fund Telecommunications Devices for the Deaf. (PU Code $ 2881.) This surcharge became effective July 1, 1989 (Resolution T-13061, e era i Tele Taribis sineam Jo April 26, 1989).

Applicant should include in its tariff appropriate rules for imposing these fees and surcharges. ing the wind for the policy of the contract of the property of the contract of
