

REC 8 S 831

themselves out to the public to provide intraLATA service. By D.94-09-065, we authorized competitive intraLATA services effective January 1, 1995 for carriers meeting specified criteria.

The Commission has established two major criteria for determining whether a CPCN should be granted. An applicant who is a switchless reseller must demonstrate that it has a minimum of $25,000 of cash or cash equivalent (as described in D.91-10-041, Appendix A, Paragraph 5.1), reasonably liquid, and readily available to meet the firm's start-up expenses. Such applicants shall also document any deposits required by LECs or interexchange carriers (IECs) and demonstrate that they have additional resources to cover all such deposits. (D.93-05-010.) In addition, an applicant is required to make a reasonable showing of technical expertise in telecommunications or a related business.

As part of its amendment, applicant provided an interim unaudited balance sheet and income statement demonstrating that it has a net worth of approximately $3,000,000. Applicant also has liquid securities in the net amount of $192,489 on deposit with Interstate/Johnson Lane a member of the New York Stock Exchange. As an exhibit to its amendment, applicant provided the most current statement of account. This indicates that applicant has more than $25,000, consisting of cash equivalent. It satisfies our criteria.

By Decision (D. 84-01-037 (N.C. 8282) 314 (1984)) and later decisions, we authorized intraLATA entry generally. However, we limited the authority conferred to intraLATA service, and we

2 D.93-05-010 defines a switchless reseller as a nondominant interexchange carrier (NDIEC) with the following characteristics: it uses the switch of another carrier; it usually, but not always, uses access circuits that the underlying carrier purchases from a local exchange company (LEC); it provides service in its own name, and its customers view it as their telephone company for interLATA and interstate calls. D.92-06-069 noted that it is possible to have control, operate, or manage telephone lines without owning them. The decision also notes that resellers which do not own or directly operate their own telephone wires may still have plant which is not owned, controlled, operated and/or managed in order to facilitate communication by telephone.

for being reasonably liquid and readily available to meet the applicant's needs.

Applicant has provided information on its key managers, indicating their education and experience. It can be summarized as follows: Peter T. Loftin is the president and founder of applicant, which has been operating since 1983. At that time he also started several other telecommunications companies. In 1984, he founded the North Carolina Long Distance Association, representing the state's independent long distance carriers. He attended North Carolina State University.

Kimberly K. Chapman, executive vice president of marketing and customer relations since 1987, joined applicant in 1984 as a customer service representative. She is a graduate of Purdue University with a B.A. in Communications and Marketing.

Michael Newkirk, executive vice president in charge of engineering operations, joined applicant in 1986. Prior to that, he was employed by TMC, a Kentucky based long distance carrier.

Jeff McDonald, applicant's vice president of sales, joined applicant in 1991 after working for MCI since 1987. Prior to MCI he was employed by Telecom USA for four years.

On December 8, 1993, applicant was administratively dissolved by the North Carolina Secretary of State, due to late filings of the applicant's annual reports. As of that same date, the applicant was reinstated once the reports were filed.

Applicant asserts that its corporate existence never lapsed and that it allocated additional resources to the maintenance of corporate status to ensure this will not recur. Applicant has offered both a Certificate of Reinstatement from the North Carolina Secretary of State as well as a Certificate of Revivor from the California Franchise Tax Board showing that applicant is currently in compliance in California. We accept applicant's explanation of the North Carolina action and do not believe it bars applicant from receipt of a CPCN.

We will authorize the interLATA and intralATA services that applicant seeks to provide.

Findings of Fact

1. Applicant served a copy of the application upon 158 telephone corporations with which it is likely to compete.

2. A notice of the filing of the application appeared in the Daily Calendar on May 24, 1995. A notice of the filing of the amendment appeared in the Daily Calendar on November 3, 1995.

3. No protests have been filed.

4. A hearing is not required.

5. By prior Commission decisions we authorized competition in providing interLATA telecommunications service, but generally barred those offering such service from holding out to the public the provision of intralATA service.

6. By D. 94-09-065 we authorized competitive intralATA services effective January 1, 1995 for carriers meeting specified criteria.

7. Applicant has demonstrated that it has a minimum of $25,000 of cash equivalents including over $192,000 in liquid securities, reasonably liquid and readily available to meet its start-up expenses.

8. Applicant has also represented that no further deposits will be required by its underlying carriers to extend service into California markets.

9. Applicant's technical experience consists of four employees with a combined experience of over 48 years in the telecommunications industry.

10. Applicant has submitted with its application a complete draft of applicant's initial tariffs which complies with the requirements established by the Commission, including prohibitions on unreasonable deposit requirements.

11. Applicant has represented that no one associated with or employed by applicant was previously associated with an NDIEC that filed for bankruptcy or went out of business.

Applicant has received satisfactorily explained the brief administrative dissolution for failure to file timely annual reports in 1993 and has put in place adequate safeguards against its recurrence.

12. Since no facilities are to be constructed, it can be seen with certainty that the proposed operation will not have a significant effect upon the environment.

13. The Commission has routinely granted NDIECs, such as applicant, an exemption from Rule 18(b) to the extent that the rule requires applicant to serve a copy of its application on cities and counties in the proposed service area.

14. Exemption from the provisions of PU Code §§ 816-830 has been granted to other resellers. (See, e.g., D.86-10-007 and D.88-12-076.)

Conclusions of Law

1. Applicant has the financial ability to provide the proposed service.

2. Applicant has made a reasonable showing of technical expertise in telecommunications.

3. Public convenience and necessity require the interLATA and intralATA services to be offered by applicant.

4. Applicant is subject to:

- a. The current 3.2% surcharge applicable to all intrastate services except for those excluded by D.94-09-065, as modified by D.95-02-050, to fund the Universal Lifeline Telephone Service (PU Code § 879; Resolution T-15799);

- b. The current 0.136% surcharge applicable to all intrastate services except for those excluded by D.94-09-065, as modified by D.95-02-050, to fund the California Relay Service and Communications Devices Fund (PU Code § 2881; Resolution T-15801);

- c. The user fee provided in PU Code §§ 431-435, which is 0.1% of gross intrastate revenue for the 1995-96 fiscal year (Resolution 4778); and

The current 0.27% surcharge applicable to all intrastate services, except for those excluded by D.94-09-065, as modified by D.95-02-050, to fund the California High Cost Fund (PU Code S 739.30, Resolution T-15826).

5. Applicant should be exempted from Rule 18(b)'s requirement of service of the application on cities and counties in the proposed service area.

6. The application should be granted to the extent set forth below.

7. Because of the public interest in competitive interLATA and intraLATA services, the following order should be effective immediately.
