In the Matter of the Application of ASC Telecom, Inc., for a certificate of public convenience and necessity (PCN) authorizing and authorizing provision of InterLATA services (Filed October 24, 1995) and IntraLATA telecommunications services (Filed October 24, 1995) as a "switchless" Reseller within the State of California.

InterLATA services being filed this application or, 850-10-48, D

not attached to the original application or, 850-10-48, D

The applicant, ASC Telecom, Inc. (applicant), a Kansas corporation qualified to do business in California, seeks a certificate of public convenience and necessity (PCN) under Public Utilities (PU) Code § 1001 to permit it to resell InterLATA and IntraLATA toll telecommunications services within California. Applicant also seeks an exemption from the requirements of Rule 18(b) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure to the extent that this rule requires the service of this application on cities and counties in the proposed service area.

Applicant is a wholly owned subsidiary of US Telecom, Inc., which, in turn, is a wholly owned subsidiary of Sprint Corporation. Upon the grant of this application, applicant intends to begin its telecommunications services with "operator services" and "prepaid card" services. The operator services will be provided primarily to the hospital industry and prepaid card services primarily to individuals and small businesses.

1. California is divided into ten Local Access and Transport Areas (LATAs) of various sizes, each containing numerous local telephone exchanges. "InterLATA" describes services, revenues, and functions that relate to telecommunications originating in one LATA and terminating in another. "IntraLATA" describes services, revenues, and functions that relate to telecommunications originating and terminating within a single LATA.

decrees, as provided by D.R.O.-SO-30, no related services will be provided directly to consumers for use in California and throughout the United States.

By Decision (D.) 84-01-037 (14 CPUC2d 317 (1984)) and later decisions, we authorized interLATA entry generally.<sup>2</sup> However, we limited the authority conferred to interLATA service, and we subjected the applicants to the condition that they not hold themselves out to the public to provide interLATA service. By D.94-09-065, we authorized competitive interLATA services effective January 1, 1995, for carriers meeting specified criteria.

The Commission has established two major criteria for determining whether a CPCN should be granted. An applicant who is a switchless reseller<sup>2</sup> must demonstrate that it has a minimum of $25,000 of cash or cash equivalent, as described in D.91-10-041, up 41 CPUC2d 520 (1991), reasonably liquid and readily available to meet the firm's start-up expenses. Such applicants shall also document any deposits required by local exchange companies or interexchange carriers (IECs) and demonstrate that they have adequate resources to cover all such deposits (D.93-05-010). In addition, an applicant is required to make a reasonable showing of technical expertise in telecommunications or a related business.

Funds necessary for applicant's proposed switchless telecommunication operations will be provided by Sprint, the applicant's wholly owned parent corporation. As detailed in the attached exhibits, fully describes and documents proposed and required financial resources to support the proposed business plan.

<sup>2</sup> D.93-05-010 defines a switchless reseller as a nondominant interexchange carrier (NDIEC) with the following characteristics: it uses the switch of another carrier; it usually, but not always, uses access circuits that the underlying carrier purchases from an LEC; it provides service in its own name, and its customers view it as their telephone company for interLATA and interstate calls. D.92-06-069 noted that it is possible to control, operate, or manage telephone lines without owning them. The decision also notes that resellers which do not own or directly operate their own telephone wires may still have plant which is owned, controlled, operated, and/or managed in order to facilitate communication by telephone.

Sprint's December 21, 1995 commitment letter, Sprint will provide $100,000 to applicant for applicant's proposed interLATA and intraLATA telecommunications services. This cash commitment is irrevocable for a period of twelve months, commencing from the date of certification by the Commission. Applicant also provided a copy of Sprint's 1994 annual report, which includes Sprint's 1994 consolidated balance sheet and income statement, to demonstrate that Sprint had in excess of $123 million cash at December 31, 1994. The letter of commitment satisfies our criteria for being reasonably liquid and readily available to meet the applicant's needs.

Applicant has provided information on its seven key officers indicating their education, technical training, and job experience as detailed in Exhibit 1 to the application. These key officers are President Richard H. Kalbrenner, Vice President and no Controller John P. Meyer, Vice President and Treasurer M. Jeannine Standjord, Vice President Eric P. Tom, Secretary Michael T. Hyde, Assistant Secretary Michael J. Gardner, and Assistant Secretary Glenn Yamashita. In addition, applicant has attached a complete draft of its initial California tariff schedule as Exhibit 6 to the application, to further substantiate its technical expertise to be used when it will authorize the interLATA and intraLATA services that applicant seeks to provide.

Findings of Fact

1. Applicant served a copy of the application upon approximately 290 telephone corporations with which it is likely to compete.

2. A notice of the filing of the application appeared in the Daily Calendar on November 2, 1995.

3. No protests have been filed.

4. A hearing is not required to determine if a prior Commission decision is unauthorized competition in providing interLATA telecommunications service but generally barred those offering such service from holding out to the public the provision of intralATA service, if fees for interLATA of $25,000,000 at § 10. By D.94-09-065, we authorized competitive intralATA rate services effective January 1, 1995, for carriers meeting specified criteria. Every rate must be reasonable and not discriminatory to

7. Applicant has demonstrated that it has a minimum of $25,000 of cash, reasonably liquid and readily available, to meet its start-up expenses, to demonstrate its ability to provide intralATA services.

8. Applicant's technical experience consists of seven key officers, with a combined experience of over 76 years, in the telecommunications industry.

9. Applicant has submitted with its application a complete draft of applicant's initial tariff, which complies with the requirements established by the Commission including prohibitions on unreasonable deposit requirements, discriminatory practices and cross-connections. Since no facilities are to be constructed, it can be seen with certainty that the proposed operation will not have a significant effect upon the environment.

10. The Commission has routinely granted NDIECs to such applicants as exempt from Rule 18(b) where no construction is involved to the extent that the rule requires applicant to serve a copy of its application on cities and counties in the proposed service area.

11. Exemption from the provisions of PU Code §§ 816-830 has been granted to other resellers. (See, e.g., D.86-19-007 and D.88-12-1076.) It follows that another reseller deserves a like exemption.

Conclusions of Law
1. Applicant has the financial ability to provide the proposed service.

2. Applicant has made a reasonable showing of technical expertise in the telecommunications business and a showing of public convenience and necessity require the intralATA and intralATA services to be offered by applicant in providing an
