Hello again...

Just a quick update. It appears things are getting back on track quickly. To avoid the risk of jinxing, I won't try to predict that we may announce by end of this week. We may yet be able to have our three-way meeting just in time to avoid Jim cancelling his spring break tickets.

Hello:

To follow up on yesterday's message at the commission meeting, we will now be delaying the announcement re the consultant, perhaps by a few more weeks. Stay tuned.

Hello Sidney:

Please see attached document for additional requests for advance prep. Please consider this as a supplement to the earlier document sent to you. We can discuss this further this afternoon. Thanks.

Hello Sid:

This is to inform you that CPUC has selected a consultant to lead an independent assessment of PG&E's AMI & billing systems. We have initiated contract negotiations with the selected consultant and expect to conclude them in the near term. In parallel with this, we would like PG&E to begin preparations required to support the consultant, so their work can begin promptly upon the signing of the contract.

To get this started, please review the attached document for a suggested list of support areas to address (the list may get expanded as needed). We should arrange a meeting in a few days to discuss the progress and to resolve any questions or issues with the required support items. The consultant will be identified to PG&E at the conclusion of contract negotiations. Thanks.
