Hi Rosalina:

We need 3 tables and 6 six chairs. Do you know if this event will be inside or outside (Heather Farms is outside, right?). Also, how many people are expected? We have two speakers - [Redacted] for Smart Meters and [Redacted] for Low Income and Energy Efficiency Programs and Services. Will they have a total of 10 minutes to speak, if not, how long? Thanks, Lavern

Fyi.

Will check the venue tomorrow. Please let me know if you have any request as to your set up, tables, chairs, and outlet?

Thanks.

Rosalina

SENATOR MARK DESAULNIER, CITY OF WALNUT CREEK, AND CPUC SPONSOR FREE CONSUMER WORKSHOP ON LOWERING UTILITY COSTS

March 2, 2010 - In these trying economic times, State Senator Mark DeSaulnier, the City of Walnut Creek, and the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) have joined efforts to hold a free workshop to inform and educate consumers about public programs and services available to the community, including ways to save money on telephone and energy bills. Invited speakers will discuss state and federally mandated programs, energy efficiency and conservation programs, bill payment assistance plans, and how to empower consumers against scams and fraud.

When: March 12, 2010, 10 a.m. to Noon

Where: Heather Farms Community Center

301 North San Carlos Dr., Walnut Creek

Who: Representatives from the CPUC, Department of Consumer Affairs, PG&E, California LifeLine Telephone Program, Deaf and Disabled Telecommunications Program, and TURN (consumer advocacy group) will be available to answer questions

Senator DeSaulnier represents California Senate District Seven. He chairs four Senate committees, including Labor and Industrial Relations. For more information on Senator DeSaulnier, please visit <http://dist07.casen.govoffice.com/>.

The CPUC regulates privately owned electric, natural gas, telecommunications, water, railroad, rail transit, and passenger transportation companies. For more information on the CPUC, please visit www.cpuc.ca.gov.
