Subject: PG&E SmartMeter Outreach Events Update - 3/11/2010

Marzia, Sommer and Bruce - Attached you will find an updated list of PG&E's currently planned SmartMeter Customer Outreach events. The next event is one we are partnering with the CPUC on (I believe Marzia is speaking) on Friday in Walnut Creek.

As we've discussed, this is a living document, and we are working to add new opportunities every day. As such, details for some of the events here, which are marked with an asterisk, are still being confirmed (for example, which PG&E staff member will lead the event, day for the event if it is something like a Rotary Club that meets every Monday, etc.). I will send you an updated list every Thursday, and highlight any changes from the previous week's list.

Because some of the events are very localized community events, such as our own Customer Advisory Groups in Bakersfield and Fresno or a neighborhood association group, it may be helpful for me to let the PG&E staff member leading an event know when your teams plan to attend. While not required of course, it would ensure that your teams have the proper access they need at any event they choose to attend. Please let me know your thoughts on this kind of coordination. Thanks, and please call me any time with questions.
