I think my fear is that Frank is planning to be in LA all day Wednesday. I am the laggard going down late, which is why I might have some time (limited) in SF Wednesday morning. I'm guessing that even if Frank makes it back from London, he is not here Wednesday. I have an inquiry in to his assistant to find out the definitive answer to that, but haven't heard back. I will let you know as soon as I can. What about Tuesday early afternoon? I MUST be back at the Commission at 3 p.m. but am pretty much flexible on Tuesday otherwise.

Well, after checking some key schedules, we are thinking that it is unlikely we will have had the time by Tuesday morning to come to agreement among ourselves, and Friday some key players for us are not available. So I realize that you are leaving for LA on Wednesday, Julie, but if you would be willing to give us what time you have early Wednesday morning, that will likely give us the best opportunity for a productive discussion. Hopefully Frank will have been liberated from London by then and can round out the group. Not ideal, I know -- but would that work?

Tuesday morning and Friday morning are both doable for me. Thanks. Hope your parents make it!

Thanks, Julie. I wondered about Frank's availability too when I saw from his out of office message where he is (my family has a similar problem - my parents are trying to get to Greece for my brother's wedding and suddenly they can't get there - yikes. I suspect Frank might be slightly less heartbroken to miss a QF summit meeting though).

I didn't realize you would be leaving Wednesday morning for LA. If your availability is better on Tuesday, I can ask the parties about moving it up a day. Would that make it easier for you to participate? Or Friday?

Hi Trina,

Next week the Commission meeting is in LA, and I'm pretty sure Frank and I are both flying down Wednesday. I could probably make an 8:30 a.m. start at Winston, but only be available for about an hour before needing to leave. That is likely not enough? Probably others are available, but Wed and Thurs are not good for me and Frank (who I think is, at the moment, probably stuck in London in any case due to volcano ash).

CPUC QF Summit Team: on behalf of the QF summit negotiating parties, we'd appreciate it if you could attend the meeting we have scheduled for Wednesday 4/21 at Winston & Strawn. The IOU/TURN/DRA team presented an arbitration process proposal to the QF/CHP team this morning that we'd all like an opportunity to discuss with you. I ran this idea by Melissa earlier this week, and I can't represent that there is agreement among the parties on this proposal but we did agree we'd benefit from your participation in a discussion of it. I understand parties are planning to start the meeting at 8:30 on Wednesday, but given the relatively short notice if you can't make it until later that is fine. Just let us know when we can expect you (and what subset of you, if not all of you can attend). Thanks,
