Subject: Supplier Diversity Awards: People to Thank

First of all would be the entire Supplier Diversity team that stayed focused on goal achievement. Also I think Chris Johns for setting a corporate culture for all employees that supplier Diversity is a priority and clearly communicating that supplier diversity is important to the entire leadership team by cascading SD goal achievement and results tracking to the Director level across all lines of business; Des Bell as our Chief Procurement officer is critical in leading the charge - he re-invigorated the Line of Business Champion process - where an assigned champion from each LOB works closely with the supplier diversity team and sourcing managers to design an effective strategy for each LOB to achieve its SD goals. Jerilyn Gleaves should be commended for her project management of the LOB champion process last year.

The Sourcing teams for making Supplier Diversity goal achievement part of everyday business under the leadership of Gun Shim, Steve Coleman, Mike Meko, Linda Winter and Lance Schultz.
