EXHIBIT REFERENCE: PG&E-6, CHAPTER 11

In reference to Exhibit PG&E-6 page 11-2 states that "Each of the PG&E Corporation senior executives reviewed their business calendars to determine the portion of their time spent on Utility and non-Utility matters. Based on this analysis, the SVP's immediate office forecast costs have been reduced by 1.0 percent."

QUESTION 2B

How did PG&E Corporation senior executives determined by looking at their business calendars a time allocation for their time used for utility and non-utility related matters. Provide a sample.

ANSWER 2B

Please see PG&E's response to DRA_012-Q09 for a description of how PG&E prepared the time allocation. As part of this process, the office of each senior executive identified on his/her calendars those meetings devoted to non-Utility matters. A sample page from the calendar for Stephen Cairns -- which shows a meeting at 9 a.m. that was identified as a non-Utility matter -- is provided as Attachment GRC2011-Ph-I_DR_DRA_220-Q02bAtch01.

Please note that, in producing this Attachment, PG&E in no way waives the right to object to further discovery concerning the entries on this calendar, including, but not limited to, on the basis of protection of the attorney-client privilege.
