Hi Redac and Trina,

I'm forwarding back to you a spreadsheet that Trina provided to us last month, which contains the names of the PG&E folks who are monitoring this spending. In the spending data that you provided yesterday, there are several new "Orders" that are not included on the spreadsheet. Could you update this spreadsheet with the relevant information for these orders?

Thanks again—here's the list:

8099500 BTL Competitive Outreach
8100456 CCA - Below the Line

2010 Labor and Labor Related

202440 BTL - Community Choice Aggregation

8085219 IV-BTL- CCA Corp and Inside Sales

Steve, [Red] recall that I was going to send to you the spreadsheet that includes the names of the people who are monitoring the CCA BTL order number charges. It's attached. My apologies for the delay - I tried to tinker with it to figure out why it didn't print the last column and I am sure it is something very simple but my excel skills are so rusty I gave up. But it shows up on the screen.

Hi Trina,

We are still planning to meet with you and Karen tomorrow—could you confirm?

Regarding agenda, I'm hoping to discuss the details around how the items in the "Definitions" section of the BTL procedures actually show up in the time tracking in the "Time and Expense Guidelines" portion of the procedures. I'm hoping to identify individuals on the Org Charts you have provided, and determine who authorizes spending and why, and the source of the funding. We can work through some examples from the spending reports for Marin and/or CCSF.

Thanks again,

Steve

Trina, yes, that sounds good. Let me know your preferred time, and I'll try to block out a room here, and again, we are happy to come to Beale street, if that is easier.

I think you were also going to provide some more written material "before" we met? I'll send a clarifying note about that later today, if that would be helpful, but in the meantime, I'll block out Thursday afternoon.

Steve, how would Thursday afternoon work? I am out of the office early in the week but Thursday afternoon looks good for both Redac and me. Let me know.

I'm really sorry to hear you got that bug, it's NO fun at all. I am sure we can find a time next week to meet up, assuming Karen is around. I'll check.

Hope you have a restful weekend.

Hi Trina,

Since we last exchanged notes, that "bug" that knocked you out seems to have caught up with me--I'm in Day 10 of this thing, but hoping I'm almost done with it. Is there a day next week that works for you and Karen to come meet with me and one of my staffers? Let's try to set something up for sure--we'd be happy to come downtown, if that works too.

Thanks,

Steve

Yes, that's what I was referring to - somewhat obliquely. I intend to get clarity on that next week. Have a nice weekend.

Hi Trina,

Thank you—this helps a bit in filling in the gaps.

If it works for you, let's schedule our talk after you send me the info about “orders” and SAP that you were going to get from Redacted I think that would be the most effective use of everyone's time.

Hi Steve,

I think I mentioned when we spoke last week that I would send to you the org charts for the groups that supervise various CCA communications. Those org charts are in the attached documents and are described in the attached Word document.

I will call you next week to further follow up on our conversation. Have a nice weekend.

Hi Trina,

Sorry to hear that you were out sick some more last week—I hope you've managed to shake the bug!

In my response to you last week, I asked some follow-up questions about PG&E's claim for Section 583 protection for the data and the DR response word document. It would be helpful to have a response to that question soon.

Also, regarding Q2, I'm escalating that up to Brian in hopes that will result in a "responsive" response, w/o having to resort to formal discovery. PG&E's unwillingness to tell us who is working on this project and authorizing expenditures and use of staff time was a real eye-catcher with senior management here, last week.

Attaching your initial response, for Brian's benefit.

Trina,

Thanks-

As you might expect, I have to say your responses to #2 and #3 are insufficient, and non-responsive to my questions. I'll draft up some formal discovery, and if there is any interest internally in pursuing it, we'll provide it.

Also, why is the word document Section 583, and why is the "non-labor" spending Section 583? The labor info, with employee names, makes sense, but I don't understand the other parts?

Hi Steve,

As promised, I'm sending along the homework items from the meeting that [Redacted] and I had with you and Gurbux in late December regarding PG&E's CCA-related below-the-line accounting and procedures. FYI, I had the questions and answers put into the standard data request template just because that is the format that folks here are used to working with; that is the Word document. The Excel file contains the summary and detail of the Marin and SF expenses going back to 2007, in response to the first question; I think this is the same template used for the SJVPA-related expense reporting but definitely let me know if it is not what you wanted. As we discussed, this information is confidential, provided pursuant to P.U. Code Section 583.

Let me know if you'd like to discuss this information or if it raises further questions for you that PG&E can address.
