Subject: Re: LTRFO PD timing?

Thanks very much for the quick response, Karl. The timing you describe is about what I had hoped for/figured.

Part of the reason I asked is that the PG&E project manager of the LTRFO had heard from ED on Friday that the PD would be issued today -- I was surprised at that given that you and Carol were both out last week and not around to review or sign off on the PD. :) He probably just meant that the PD would be going to your office for review.

Thanks again,
Trina

Trina,

I think we are hoping to issue a PD by 5/24. However, we would happily take the extra day and ship it out on the 5/25.

I will let you know if the plan changes.

Hi Carol and Karl, I just had a procedural question about the LTRFO PD timing -- I think we were hoping it would be issued by May 25th, which would make it eligible for a June agenda. Do you know if that is still the plan?

Thanks - and have a good weekend!
