PG&E Commits Facebook Identity Theft for Prop 16

by Paul Hogarth, Jun. 04, 2010

Several weeks ago, I noticed that one of my friends on Facebook was a "fan" of Proposition 16 - PG&E's Monopoly Protection Act that is easily the worst measure on the June ballot. After I chewed him out for it, he expressed shock to even be on that page. Apparently, PG&E had added him on as a supporter without his consent. Today, just as the Prop 16 campaign boasted that it now has 50,000 "fans" on Facebook, I received a press release from the Sunrise Center in Marin County - who complained that some of their own staffers (who are working hard to defeat Prop 16) have also been added as "fans." Besides exposing a serious loophole in Facebook's privacy features, it also proves that PG&E's $40 million campaign to pass Prop 16 includes committing identity theft.
