Summary:

This report provides an implementation assessment of the Southern California Edison Company (SCE) and Southern California Gas Company (SoCalGas) 2007-2008 Palm Desert Partnership and Demonstration (PDP&D) Program, a pilot program intended to use innovative delivery methods and measures to support the City of Palm Desert's goal to reduce energy consumption by 30% within five years.

The PDP&D program represents the combined efforts of SCE, SoCalGas, the City of Palm Desert, and the Energy Coalition. Funding for the SCE and SoCalGas PDP&D program is provided from the California Ratepayers' Public Good Charge Fund under the auspices of the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC). This evaluation is designed to address the following research topics:

- What measures were installed and what were the energy and demand accomplishments of the program relative to objectives stated in the program planning documents?
- What were the costs of the program and how did this compare to other programs?
- What was innovative about the program and what can be replicated elsewhere?

Energy Division Staff's responses to comments on the Draft Final Palm Desert Partnership & Demonstration Program Implementation Assessment will be posted on June 2, 2009.
