Subject: RA Filings

Trina,

I want to make you aware of issues related to PG&E's recent RA filings for the months of March, April, and July. There have been errors in these filings significant enough to make PG&E appear non-compliant with its RA obligations for these months as of the initial filing date.

PG&E has had to make around 200 MW of additional RA capacity available to the CAISO each of these months due to outages or mistaken listing of un-contracted capacity. PG&E's RA staff has been notified that based on these errors, Energy Division may refer these filings for possible enforcement action. I thought you should know about this continuing problem.
