Hey, Trina,

Thanks for getting back to me. That's fine although my hope was that I would just be able to give this investor (from HSBC) Hal's contact info and he could call Hal sometime. Is that ok? If so, please send Hal's contact info.

Thanks,

Andy

ccing [Redacted] as I asked him a similar question earlier today...

Andy, I am so sorry for not getting back to you sooner! I took one day off this week and am still recovering from the inbox log jam. Hal Laflash is the guy for you to talk to here -- I'll have him give you a call, does that work?

Subject: Question

Hey, Trina,

Who at PG&E would know something about the ability, both technical and regulatory, to deploy fuel cells in a way that would allow them to be islanded from the grid? This is kind of random, I realize, but an investor was asking about this and I had no clue.

Thanks,
