PD DISCUSSION, SECTION 4.2.1, PAGE 27 of the red/blueline version at the end of the paragraph that begins "For these statutory interpretation reasons", ADD AT END:

"Consistent with the distinction between public fueling stations and private electricity sales discussed above, including the lack of current market power by electric charging service providers in the market for public fueling stations, our finding only applies to electric vehicle charging services offered to the general public in public charging locations, not to electric vehicle charging services offered at private locations not open to the general public."

FINDING OF FACT 5, REVISE TO ADD AT END:

"This finding only applies to electric vehicle charging services offered to the general public in public charging locations, not to electric vehicle charging services offered at private locations not open to the general public."

CONCLUSION OF LAW 2, REVISE TO ADD AT END:
