Subject: PEV OIR -- more confusing than before?

Andrew --

I am not sure that the revision 2 does what I thought you were intending. On the residential side, it seems focused on the homeowner, and not on the problem of what happens to a third party who charges at a residence. And on the homeowner section -- we never were claiming they were public utilities, and it doesn't seem to clarify the issues. Our concern has always been on third parties offering services to the residential sector and landlords, so this doesn't seem to address the concerns we've been raising. Could you give me a call at 415 209-3654.

yours,
