The ClimateSmart Program makes it easy to take personal action against climate change.

Offset your energy carbon footprint.

The energy we use every day in our homes and businesses generates greenhouse gas emissions. PG&E's ClimateSmart program enables you to balance out those emissions by investing in environmental preservation and restoration projects that reduce or absorb greenhouse gases. All reductions are independently verified, registered and retired on your behalf. So it's easy. Take your first step toward a lower carbon footprint today.

It's less than $5 a month for a typical household.

The less energy you use, the less your ClimateSmart contribution will be. At $0.00254 per kilowatt-hour and $0.06528 per thermal unit, it costs less than $5 a month for the typical home. The program is completely voluntary, and you may opt out at any time. And if that is not reason enough, your contributions are also 100% tax deductible.

Invest in California's low-carbon economy.

The ClimateSmart program invests in new, California-based projects that help create jobs and build a low-carbon future for our state. From a dairy methane-capture project in Bakersfield to a sustainably managed forest in Mendocino County, your contributions are going to work in these and other projects in a town near you.
