Martin,
thank you very much for your kind, and generous observation. It's an experience and a positive one for me.
On another subject, I'm so glad Stephanie came to the rescue; she is so wonderful and easy to deal with. She's so knowledgeable and very efficient.

Thanks again.

Subject: Really Good Job!

Hi, Sally. Stephanie & I had a good talk yesterday. I now understand the predicament with which you were faced and I want to commend you for the fine work you submitted. That effort demonstrates to me that indeed you are a talented and intelligent individual. Nice going !

I say this in the context that if you've not previously been trained (extensively) doing work with Confidential or Redacted materials, it is really tough to pick it up immediately. I know this for a fact bec I was involved in establishing this protocol & I sought to make the process as easy and user-friendly as possible. Can you believe that what is in place is the simplest way we can set forth the protocol? This is true legal work, not just more complicated Administrative work. As such, you need training & experience.

Once again, for a one-time effort w/o any previous training and contemporaneous assistance from a knowledgeable source, you really submitted great work, despite the deficiencies. You have my admiration and thanks.

Best Regards,
Martin Nakahara
