Thanks. I was very proud of the PUC today. That was a very nice gift to give Dana's family.

Understood.

BTW - your comments re Dana were well said and poignant. We will all miss her.

We have to understand the facts, respond appropriately, and get past it.

I recently received some very good news about some assets in Nigeria that will be released to me very soon!

Agreed. I hate to say it but I told them. But good soldier I am, I asked first, only to get rejected. I'm becoming adept at this.

Sorry, no chance of advance release of any part of the report, which I'm also not saying will be released Sept 2. For obvious reasons, there must be no hint of anything but a fully independent assessment.

Paul - we know that the Structure Group and the Commission are working feverishly to get this report out at the September 2 meeting. In advance of that release, our people are also trying to get the press releases and fact sheets together and would like to be responsive to the press. Would it be possible to review some highlighted findings (perhaps an executive summary) a day ahead of the public release? I know this is a big ask and I don't want to put the agency in a conflict, but if we couldn't get that, could we send someone in to review it perhaps the day before? Let me know what you think.
