Thanks, I'm really looking forward to see how the roses do next year once their established. They should all look like that purple one in a year or two.

Thanks Bob and good luck on making the deadline. September 23 is good to shoot for since it will likely get held by someone and we'd all like to avoid a food-fight at year-end.

BTW, the purple roses blooming as you come out of the elevator bank are quite stunning.

I'm aiming for next week re the decisions on the 2007-2009 incentives so it can get on the September 23 meeting agenda. However, there is some chance it will slip. A decision on the going forward mechanism around mid September.

Bob - welcome back from your vacation. Any ETA on the PD(s) on the incentives and on the incentive mechanism going forward. ? I'm sure you have a lot on your plate right now. Just curious.
