

From: Dietz, Sidney
Sent: 8/19/2010 9:48:37 AM
To: Deal, Matthew (matthew.deal@cpuc.ca.gov)
Cc:
Bcc:
Subject: RE: Couple interesting AMI related articles

I agreed with that first editorial, it's a problem explaining benefits, especially if customers are sceptical of us to begin with.

I just hope PG&E allowed to subscribe to a magazine called Intelligent Utility.

From: Deal, Matthew [mailto:matthew.deal@cpuc.ca.gov]
Sent: Thursday, August 19, 2010 9:25 AM
To: Brian.Prusnek@sce.com; Dietz, Sidney; WBlattner@SempraUtilities.com
Subject: FW: Couple interesting AMI related articles

From: Deal, Matthew
Sent: Thursday, August 19, 2010 9:19 AM
To: Smart Grid; PPD
Subject: Couple interesting AMI related articles

All –

Thought I would pass along a couple interesting articles relating to the AMI brouhaha.

Readers: Smart Meter Value Messages

<http://www.intelligentutility.com/article/10/08/readers-smart-meter-value-messages>

Texas Smart Meters Are Accurate

<http://www.intelligentutility.com/article/10/08/texas-smart-meters-are-accurate>

My favorite quote: "The upshot: the technology works. The downer: a small number of people can make an inordinately loud stink."