Thanks, Tom.

Loretta and I are both quoted in the same story today in the Mercury-News!

Subject: Update on PG&E outreach to local jurisdictions

All:

We began making calls to local jurisdictions that have at least one segment of pipe on the "Top 100" list in their area. We are letting them know that the list will be made public on Monday and we are offering a briefings for their emergency response teams and our subject matter experts.

We have been in contact with 16 of the 43 jurisdictions. All have been appreciative of the heads-up. One thing to note is that the Bakersfield Californian has been in contact with the city regarding a possible article.

We will continue outreach over the weekend and early Monday. I will send you a similar update tomorrow.

Let me know if you have any questions.
