Subject: PG&E's Pipeline Map

Mike & Paul:

The new gas transmission pipeline and Top 100 planning segments map is now live to the public at www.pge.com/pipelineplanning.

Using the familiar Google Maps interface, users may now browse the whole service territory or type in a location, and get combined information on the gas transmission pipelines and the planning segments in a single view, instead of having to download separate maps.

Please let me know if you have any questions.
