Subject: Add'l San Bruno explosion questions

Please respond to a few additional questions we have about the San Bruno explosion.

1) Is PG&E contemplating or has already proceeded to underground any overhead electric utility lines located at the San Bruno explosion impact area as well as re-route Line 132 away from the same area?

2) If so, how would the costs of such projects be treated (e.g., paid for by PG&E shareholders)?

Thank you.

Eugene
