Thanks. I am supportive, so bring something forward in a reasonable timeframe. You could do a few, see how it goes, then go to competitive bidding for the remainder (which, I understand, could be quite large). And, thanks for being positive.

Yes, for a small number of Mw, if you're supportive. But we'd prefer to have them participate in a competitive bid.

Dan Pellissier tells me you, unlike Edison, are willing to sign a few contracts. Correct? At a price above MPR?
