I'm on a conference call about a tragedy in Oakland today - a fire that erupted in an apartment that left a woman and her child dead and another person who tried to save her dead. We don't know what happened but we do know that the apartment did not have electricity - it was shut off in the first week of December. We should know more over the day and tomorrow. The apartment was shut off for nonpayment - the amount somewhere in the $245.00 back payment with a very sporadic payment history. Spanish speaker and a CARE customer.
