I will also have a recruiter contact her next week to give her information and how to apply for jobs.

Hi Brian. Thanks for forwarding...we have a number of open management positions right now; I checked and she is not an applicant so far. I do have a Land Management Manager level position that will open up sometime in February; recruiting will be both internal and external. Not sure she is a perfect fit, but if she is interested she should take a look on PG&E website (or Craig's List--we always post there) or email me directly to tell me more about her interest. I would be happy to do informational interview.

Hope you are well and had a great holiday. I had a really nice visit with Sarah today and look forward to getting to know her more this coming year.

Take care; hope you and I can find a time for lunch sometime in the coming year as well. Jayne
