Hi Jaclyn,

I confirmed that we are not negotiating any bilaterals with PV projects that are under 20 MW. It could be that this is a holdover from the 2009 RFO or that the PV developer had inaccurate information. We have been directing new inquiries to the PV RFO and RAM. The fact that we are negotiating with a particular developer is supposed to be confidential and therefore, it is interesting that it was raised by another company.

If you know the name of the PV company, I could confirm whether the project is on the 2009 shortlist or whether we received an inquiry from them.

Thanks,
Meredith

Hello Meredith,

Can you please verify that the attached data request is up-to-date and accurate? I recently had a phone call with a solar PV developer that said another PV company is negotiating a contract with PG&E for multiple small PV projects for a total capacity of about 100 MW. I'd like to verify with you if this is correct or not.

Thank you for the information,
Jaclyn
