Dear Assemblymember Hill:

Thank you for today's letter to President Peevey regarding natural gas pipeline safety and the data due from PG&E on March 15, 2011. I am replying on his behalf.

Should PG&E fail to comply with the Commission's order to produce traceable, verifiable, and complete records of its natural gas transmission pipelines on March 15, Commission staff will recommend immediate fines or other appropriate sanctions, and will move to find the needed records using the Commission's statutory powers.

Should the information PG&E submits March 15 require immediate action by the Commission to ensure public safety, including further pressure reductions, the Commission will act immediately.
