I should also ask what process we should use to finalize this if we reach agreement. One of us would need to get the final document and get it signed, and since Kirk has to sign the Compliance Plan, I figure that you guys would sign first, and then we'd get a final signed version of all three documents (although technically no one signs the table..). Does that sound like what you had envisioned?

Ok, thanks...for whatever it is. Let's discuss when we get past today.

Okay, as I said, I haven't heard from Frank yet on Beth's additions. I think they are all downstairs waiting for the OSC.

There is one other thing I had wanted to bring up, but after thinking it over, I've decided that we can do it outside of this Compliance Plan, and that it would just muddle things up.

I should not that this came from Beth, actually, so would need to get Frank's agreement before we use it, but I'm checking with him now.
