83 for State Energy Program funds for residential, 13 for Energy Efficiency Conservation Block Grant funds for residential, (not sure the extent to which Commercial SEP are affected by the sweep but that's and additional 30). Then around 100 mill for local eecbg and better buildings. That last number is a hard one to quantify. Say 50 and you would be conservative. So somewhere between 150 and 200.

Panama -- I'd like yo be able to tell our OGA folks what your number represents. $200 mil sounds like a lot. I thought CEC had allocated about $100 mil from ARRA SEP to 3 buckets (res'l, com'l, and orig PACE reinvested in res'l). Are you counting EECBG fund, or am I just off in remembering ARRA $ devoted to EUC? Or are you going beyond EUC, which was the basis for my estimate?
Thanks,
Jeanne

loss money may be a strong phrase. You could say that around $200 million in ARRA funds are being leveraged with IOU EUC money. Without EUC funds the ARRA money is at risk of being spent far slower and potentially running close to deadlines..

I wd sat in the neighborhood of a little south of $50-60 mil likely to be spent during FY 2011-12. Panama shd have a better sense of what already wd be spent by 6/30/11.
