At 6:30 last night they left a message on the main press line - not my direct line, not my cell phone, and not email (which I've spoken to a few of them about how I check religiously) - saying they heard we're issuing a release and they are going to issue one. That is not coordination.

By the way, I can't ever recall PG&E issuing a press release at 7:45 a.m....

Terrie- did PG&E call you to let you know they were doing a release and the timing?
