Joyce,

Here are the documents Brian has sent us. As I mentioned in my previous email we are unable to open all four .htm documents (beginning with the letters "ATT"). Please resend these four documents to us as attachments in .doc or .pdf format.

I can be contacted directly at [Redacted] if any of this is unclear. (I believe it is possible to create a pdf document by printing it out and scanning it.) Thank you again for your help with this matter.

Joyce or [Redac] can you send Linda copies of the documents or citations relative to the intranet links ? I believe the links you provided to the PUC were from the company's intranet, which is not accessible by outside parties.

Brian,

I'm an attorney with the CPUC's Legal Division looking into the issue regarding the Women's Network scholarship. Thank you for providing us with these documents.

Unfortunately we are unable to open all four of the above .htm documents (beginning with the letters "ATT"). Our support staff have advised that the documents should be sent either in .pdf or .doc formats. Would it be possible to resend these in one of those two formats?

Once again, thank you for your assistance with this matter and for all the help your staff has already provided.

Brian,

I also wanted to bring the below issue to your attention. As President of the Women's Network, I was alerted of a CPUC attorney investigating a conflict of interest regarding a scholarship we plan to award a dependent of an employee at the CPUC. Our scholarship application did not ask where the parents worked, so we did this unknowingly and will revoke it should the Legal Division or their outside counsel find it a conflict. See below for more description.

I will be out next week but Joyce Ibardolasa and [Redacted] who both sit on the PG&E Employee Community Fund (ECF) board are aware of the issue should you have questions.

Thanks,

John,

I'm not sure who we should alert in Regulatory Relations, but Linda Filchev from the Legal Division at the CPUC has spoken to both myself and [Redacted] about a scholarship the PG&E Employees Community Fund

(ECF) awarded to a dependent of an employee at the CPUC. The award was made by the Women's Network Employee Resource Group. I think they are trying to determine if there is a conflict of interest.

As background, the ECF is a 501(c)(3) organization that awards scholarships that are funded primarily from employee contributions from the Campaign for the Community. For 2011 the ECF is awarding $256,500 in scholarships to 154 students in the PG&E service territory. Neither [Redacted] or I know which award recipient is the dependent of the CPUC employee.

Should someone in Reg. Rel. be made aware of the issue?

Hi [Re],

FYI, one of our Women's Network Scholarship Recipients has a parent at the CPUC. Linda is a Conflict of Interest Attorney at the CPUC and just wants to ask you a few questions to confirm there is in fact no conflict of interest.

Sincerely,
