Subject: RE: 7/28 RPS Legislation and Implementation Meeting

All:

First off, thanks to Grady for putting together the matrix. I have no comments on the latest draft circulated.

Second, I wanted to float some language by the group that I believe would make a meaningful distinction between buckets 2 & 3. This is language that I worked on while we were still discussing the RPS legislation, and was vetted by several parties that are on this email list. Please let me know what you think.

I will be out of the office without access to email from noon today until Thursday morning, so will respond to questions and comments starting Thursday morning.

- (ii) Are subject to an ownership agreement, or purchase agreement between a renewable energy generator and a load-serving entity, each of which is not less than 5 years duration.
- (iii) Each contract contains a fixed price for the combined purchase of the renewable energy credit and the electricity import, which meet the criteria in subsection (i), over the life of the contract."

Thanks Grady and Marc for the work on this document. I haven't had the opportunity to review yet, but wanted to send this email to add Alex, Greg, and Joe to the distribution list.

Grady and colleagues –

Excellent re-draft. This will be a big help to resolve the things that are not issues and allow us to focus on the true issues.

I have suggested a few edits, and provided comments to explain these suggestions.

Subject: RE: 7/28 RPS Legislation and Implementation Meeting

All:

Thanks to each of you for taking the time to participate yesterday in a very productive discussion. Please find attached a revised draft of the product matrix that we discussed in our meeting. As discussed, the main goal in revising the matrix was to clearly identify consensus and disagreement based upon our discussion. Secondary goals were to remove redundancy and to describe the products and issues as clearly as possible.

Major changes from the draft reviewed at yesterday's meeting include:

- * removed the "RPS eligibility" column as it was largely redundant with the product description column. I integrated the two.
- * created a "consensus product description" heading and an "open issues (no consensus)" heading to clarify where the parties had agreement, and where we did not.
- * added a note at the top to list the parties involved and to describe the goal of the document.
- * Broke out the various bucket 1 products from 3 rows into 4, since we identified 4 different bucket #1 categories during our discussion. I labeled these Products 1(a)-1(d).

Please note that the "illustrative contract/interconnection structures" are not meant to be the exclusive list of all types of structures that may qualify in each bucket. Rather, these are just the examples we discussed yesterday that everyone seemed to agree would fit into a particular bucket. In other words, the structures that qualify "include, but are not necessarily limited to" those listed in this column.

As we discussed yesterday and as reflected in the footer of the document, this is not intended to represent any party's definitive position, but rather to identify the key open issues and to provide a common reference each party can use in drafting their individual proposals and comments. That said, I want to make sure it accurately represents the outcome of our discussions. Please reply all by noon on Tuesday, 8/2 with any objection or concern you have regarding this document. In doing so, please propose a specific edit to fix the concern and ask all other parties to provide any objections to your fix by Tuesday COB. My goal is to send this group a final version of the document after COB Tuesday so that parties can attach and refer to it in their individual comments. Obviously, the earlier parties send concerns, the better so that we have time to resolve them. Please just let me know if this process/timing does not work for any of you.

Kristin - could you please forward to Joe Carp, Greg Blue, and Alex Hay and reply all with their email addresses included so that they are on the chain going forward?

Hillary - could you do the same for Ted Roberts and Tony Choi?

Best,

Grady

Subject: 7/28 RPS Legislation and Implementation Meeting

All,

Thank you for your RSVP to tomorrow's meeting to discuss RPS legislation and the implementation of legislation on product categories.

As a reminder, this meeting is being held tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at PG&E's office at 77 Beale St., Conference Room 3089 in San Francisco. I've included a list of those attendees below who RSVP'ed as requested and confirmed attendance. Due to room constraints and other issues, we cannot add any other participants to this meeting.

Your names have been provided to our security desk - and security has been asked to contact me when you arrive and so that I may escort you to our conference room. Please make sure you arrive on time.

Thanks,
