Ok. Let me know. It is being drafted as we speak, but I am not sure how fast it can get through the process. I also discovered that Paul Clanon is out this week, so I assume someone else can sign out a resolution, but we haven't actually ever done that before. I am also offsite Wednesday-Friday this week, so this may be an early next week proposition at the earliest. But I am not 100% sure on that either, so don't freak out the developer until we are sure. Thanks.

Julie
