

PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY'S (U 39 E)
TRACK III LONG TERM PROCUREMENT PLAN
PG&E'S Response to Energy Division
October 21, 2011

IDENTIFICATION OF CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

Redaction Reference	1) Constitutes data listed in Appendix 1 to D.06-06-066 (Y/N)	2) Data correspond to category in Appendix 1:	3) Complies with limitations of D.06-06-066 (Y/N)	4) Data not already public (Y/N)	5) Lead to partial disclosure (Y/N)	PG&E's Justification for Confidential Treatment	Length of Time
Document: DRA_008 Data Responses
Workpaper "Comparison of Tolling Agreements10-21-11_CONF.xls"	Y	Item II.B.1 and Item II.B.2 - Generation Cost Forecasts Utility Retained Generation and DWR Contracts	Y	Y	Y	This portion of PG&E's response contract pricing and operational information related to PG&E's tolling agreements in the attached workpaper. The release of this commercially sensitive information could cause harm to PG&E's customers and put PG&E at an unfair business advantage by the disclosure of terms and conditions which could then be used by other market participants to obtain a commercial advantage in contract negotiations.	3 years
Workpaper "Comparison of Tolling Agreements10-21-11_CONF.xls"	Y	Item VII.B – Contracts and Power Purchase Agreements Between Utilities and Non-Affiliated Third Parties	Y	Y	Y	This portion of PG&E's response describes PG&E's specific contracts with non-affiliated third parties which contains contract information including, capacity, energy, timing, and pricing terms. Per the D.06-06-066 matrix, this information is confidential for three years, or until one year following expiration, whichever comes first. The release of this commercially sensitive information could cause harm to PG&E's customers and put PG&E at an unfair business advantage by the disclosure of terms and conditions which could then be used by other market participants to obtain a commercial advantage in contract negotiations.	3 years