Re: PG&E Customer Disconnection Moratorium

Dear President Peevey:

Consistent with PG&E's practice in recent years, it will voluntarily commence a moratorium on service disconnections December 16, 2011 through January 2, 2012. This suspension will apply to both residential and non-residential customers.

While service disconnections will be suspended, PG&E will continue all other collection process and notices. Our normal collection and disconnection procedures will resume on January 3, 2012.

Should you have any question regarding PG&E's moratorium on service disconnections, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Brian K. Cherry
VP Regulatory Relations
