Subject: Request for a meeting with Commissioner Simon and Commissioner Rolando Pablos of Texas

Phillis

Texas PUC Commissioner Rolando Pablos will be in San Francisco late next Monday and during the day on Tuesday and I am trying to assist him in meetings he would like to have at the CPUC.

I believe he could be available late Monday afternoon, and I know he is available for dinner that evening. Also Tuesday, but I understand it is likely that Commissioner Simon is not available then.

If dinner Monday is a possibility, that would be great. I will be there too, but none of this is related to PG&E!

Here's some biographical info on Commissioner Pablos from the press release announcing his appointment late last summer. He is new to the TX PUC, new to utility regulation, and new to the industry.

Gov. Rick Perry has appointed Rolando Pablos of Olmos Park and reappointed Ken Anderson Jr. of Dallas to the Public Utility Commission (PUC). The three-member PUC encourages competition and customer choice in Texas, and ensures electric and telephone operations, services and rates are fair and reasonable.

Pablos is an attorney in private practice and a senior advisor of SNR Denton. He is honorary consul to Spain, a member of the State Bar of Texas, chair of the San Antonio Free Trade Alliance, and a member and past board chair of the San Antonio Hispanic Chamber of Commerce. He is past chair of the Texas Racing Commission and City of San Antonio Small Business Advisory Committee, and a past board member of the Nueces River Authority and Greater San Antonio Chamber of Commerce. He is also a former adjunct professor at the University of Texas at San Antonio (UTSA), a past member of the UTSA College of Business Dean's Advisory Council, and a graduate of Leadership San Antonio. Pablos received a bachelor's degree from St. Mary's University, a Master of Business Administration from the University of Texas at San Antonio, a master's degree in hospitality management from the University of Houston, and a law degree from St. Mary's University School of Law. He is appointed for a term to expire Sept. 1, 2013.

Thanks for your help.
